

ONGC bags the Randstad Award-2013 for the Most Attractive Employer in the Energy Sector in India

ONGC has bagged the coveted Randstad Award -2013 for being the Most Attractive Employer in the Energy Sector in India. Mr. Pradeep Sahariya, ED-Chief Employee Relations received the Award on behalf of ONGC. The Awards were presented at a glittering ceremony at Bangalore on April 18, 2013. Ms. Vinita Bali, MD&CEO of Britannia Industries Limited presented the Award to Mr. Sahariya.

Mr. Pradeep Saharia receives the Award

In his acceptance speech, Mr. Saharia said that the selection of ONGC through an objective assessment adopted by Randstad India for identifying the best employer brands is an endorsement that the initiatives taken by ONGC to be a preferred employer, are on the right track. He also mentioned that ONGC would continue to innovate and evolve to remain amongst the best employer brands of India.

Mr. Sahariya delivers the Acceptance Speech

The Randstad Award is presented each year to the most attractive employer in various countries throughout the globe. The winner is based on the outcome of the world's largest survey into employer branding. And unlike other best employer awards, it is 'the people's choice', based on the views of a representative sample of employees and job-seekers in each of the participating countries. 7,000 respondents per country between the ages of 18 and 65 are asked for their views on a country's 150 largest companies via an online questionnaire. The companies are selected through national statistics agencies. This means they cannot request or subscribe to be included in the survey. The winners are selected solely based on the appeal of their employer brand. Such careful measures ensure that the survey remains completely objective.

The Award